The Property

A rare opportunity to purchase this substantial 4-bedroom period cottage, believed to date from around 1850. Located in the quiet hamlet of Perrancoombe, this is the first time the property has come to the market in three generations of the same family.

The cottage offers generous accommodation with two large reception rooms and four good-sized bedrooms. The living room features a striking large fireplace with a traditional Cornish clome oven. Behind is a hidden room, making a great office space of child's playroom. The dining room opens into a sunroom that leads directly out to the rear courtyard.

At the back of the property is a large enclosed courtyard – sheltered and private, ideal for sitting out with friends and family or enjoying summer evening BBQs after a day on the beach. Steps lead up from the courtyard to the elevated gardens and small woodland area. The space lends itself well to a keen gardener, a productive vegetable plot, or simply a great area for children to play and explore.

Additional benefits include a double garage and a useful stone outbuilding.

Perrancoombe is a peaceful valley hamlet just a short distance from Perranporth's three-mile golden sandy beach, which is popular for surfing, family days out and coastal walks along the South West Coast Path. The town itself offers a good range of shops, cafés, pubs and everyday amenities, while the surrounding countryside provides plenty of rural walks and outdoor space.

This characterful period home would suit buyers seeking a spacious family house with potential in a convenient yet tranquil coastal location.

Gardens & Courtyard

At the rear of the property is a large enclosed courtyard. It's sheltered and private, making it a great spot to sit out with friends and family – perfect for summer evening BBQs after a day on the beach.

Steps lead up from the courtyard to the elevated gardens and small woodland area. This part of the gardens are steeper, but with some work they could easily be turned into attractive terraced gardens. The space around the existing wild garden and woodland would suit keen gardeners or make an excellent vegetable plot, and it's a lovely area for children to play and explore.

To the front of the cottage you will find a large driveway with access to the double garage and parking in front for three cars.

The garage is in need of some renovation work but a great for those looking for a spacious garage/workshop or space to convert into an home office.
