THE PROPERTY

A Grade II listed country residence with 17th-century origins, the property immediately stands out for its traditional stone and brick construction, complemented by a pitched slate roof that gives the house a distinctive and enduring presence. Set within approximately 2.66 acres of grounds, including a paddock, it offers over 5,300 sq ft of accommodation across the main house, a two-storey granary, a substantial detached barn and a former stable building. Now requiring modernisation, it presents an excellent opportunity for a new owner to carry out a sensitive programme of refurbishment and adapt the property to suit their own needs while retaining its period character.

The main house has a naturally welcoming feel, with well-proportioned rooms and traditional features that reflect its age. On the ground floor, the sitting room, dining room and additional reception room provide comfortable spaces for everyday living. The kitchen and breakfast room, with gas-fired Aga, forms the centre of the home, supported by a utility room and pantry, and several further rooms offer useful options for a study, snug or hobby space.

Upstairs, six bedrooms are arranged around a central landing, along with four bathrooms. The first floor offers good flexibility, whether for family life, guest accommodation or home working, with clear scope for updating as part of the wider refurbishment.

The grounds have a relaxed, country feel, with informal garden areas, open lawns and a paddock that backs onto surrounding fields, creating a peaceful rural setting. The detached barn provides valuable space with potential for a range of future uses, subject to the necessary consents. The separate two-storey granary and former stable building add further versatility, offering scope for storage, workshop use or the creation of a studio-style area.

Overall, the property combines period charm, generous proportions and the opportunity to create a home tailored to individual needs.
