PROFESSIONAL SERVICES TO HELP YOU UNLOCK VALUE

Our service includes inspecting property without obligation and providing marketing advice in writing with an indication of realistic expectation, including recommendations regarding guide price.

We successfully harness powerful digital marketing using national property portals as well as undertaking bespoke social media campaigns, press coverage, videography and aerial photography using our new marketing team. However we understand the importance of good old fashioned promotion of your home by using the experience and contacts of our residential team of experts.

We have a London arm to our marketing service situated in the heart of the West End. The London Office operates from showrooms on St James's Place and from here we provide our clients with a window to national and international markets.

However, we also understand that not everyone wants added exposure for their homes; we can also offer you a discreet service whereby we will endeavour to sell your home privately.

Viewings are carried out on an accompanied basis when required and attention to detail given to negotiation.

We are confident our strong team will have continued success in the future, achieving the very best prices for our clients. Contact us now to see how we can help you unlock value.

WHAT OUR CLIENTS HAVE TO SAY...

“It is said that house moving is a stressful experience but, in our case, David Hinton and Theo de Soissons removed most of it in spite of negotiations being conducted close to the September stamp duty deadline. We chose Brown&Co because of an impressive, measured presentation from David Hinton, who was also on hand on several occasions further along the road with sound advice. Principally, however, we were superbly looked after by Theo, whose approachability and calmness under persistent questioning from particularly anxious and demanding buyers was impressive. He was prepared to be in touch during weekends when he wasn't on duty. Difficult to beat that for customer service.”

Mr Lowe

“I have dealt with all team members for over a decade for both residential and commercial services. They are professional, experienced and have outstanding knowledge of the local area. Vicki Foreman is one of the best negotiators I have encountered anywhere in the country. Henry Cockerton's knowledge and local 'know how' have been invaluable to the family business. Strongly recommended.”

Mr Bruce-Lockhart

“Great firm, just sold our property, and kept us updated throughout, lovely photos, went live, and updated me on all viewings, right up to change of contracts, would definitely recommend. Thank you all at Brown&Co King's Lynn.”
