Chagford Second Drift Pony Sale
Thursday 22nd October 2026

Another big crowd who travelled far and wide for the varied offering of quality ponies penned. The sun shone making the ponies look a real picture in the ring.

Top call of the day and the most expensive equine Rendells have sold to date at Chagford market was a 3-year-old Gypsy Cob mare from Messrs Gunning who eventually got knocked down for £2520, its pen mate a 4-year-old mare was next up at £1732.50 and a filly foal of the same consignment sold for £441. James Harper was well rewarded for joining us at Chagford with his Paint X foals which sold for £1260 for a filly and £735 for his colt. A matching pair of Cremello Shetland fillies came and left together at £840 each for Messrs Dodd who sold aged Shetland mares for £378 & £315. Other Shetlands met plenty of interest with the Wadge family selling to £630 for a mare and colt with geldings to 472.50 twice and a filly at £525. Cole & Yeo sold the best of their pen to £651 & £546 for coloured fillies. Hollie Francis had a good pen of coloured colts topping at £399. Dartmoor hill ponies sold to £462 for a 2-year-old Gelding from J Cole with a mare and colt foal outfit from Neil Cole making £336. Dartmoor type foals met more limited interest with Ann Cole making £221 of her best and Crispin & Diane Alford had a quality pen of foals topping at £168 for filles and £73.50 for the best colts. Alex Bowden had a pen of Grey Dartmoor hill pony x suckers topping at £147 & £115.50 for colts and his filly made £105.

The next Dartmoor Pony Sale at Chagford will be on Thursday 5th November at 11:00

Rendells are especially looking forward to welcoming the Dartmoor Pony Society to the next sale with the pedigree Dartmoors first up at 11.00 sharp with around 30 entries so far for this section. Followed by approx.150 other equines including Dartmoor hill ponies, Cob X and Shetlands.

This sale will require vendors once again, prior to the sale to have had their ponies either fully passported or microchipped and a fully completed identification form including silhouettes.
